SCHEDULE II

[See clause 20]

The minimum number of days in a month for which wages are guaranteed should be assessed on the basis of average employment during the preceding 12 months according to the following procedure:—

- Supposing an assessment is being made in the month of October 1965 the total number of workers in the pool as on 1st October 1964 and 31st October 1964 should be ascertained. The average strength, on the list of these categories should be ascertained by adding the two figures and dividing by 2.
- The total number of man-shifts worked by gang workers of the categories referred to in (a) during the month should be ascertained from the daily employment statistics.
- The total number of man-days of authorised or unauthorised leave taken by the above workers should be ascertained. This figure should be divided by the number of working days in the month to ascertain the average number of workers away on leave.
- The figures ascertained as in (c) should be deducted from the average obtained as in (a) to arrive at the effective strength of workers available during the month.
- The figure of man-shifts ascertained under (b) should be divided by the effective strength ascertained as in (d). The figure arrived at will be the average number of days of employment during the month of October 1964.
- The above process should be repeated for the remaining 11 months from November 1964 to September 1965.
- The average employment figures for the 12 months should be added and divided by 12.
- The figures arrived at in (g) above should be fixed as the minimum number of days for which wages will be guaranteed for the following 12 months ending 30th September, 1966.
